Complete Your Bachelor's at SMHEC

These Bachelor's of Science degree completion programs build on the foundation students receive in the first two years at the tri-county community college: the College of Southern Maryland. Students with General Studies and business majors can continue studies in any of the three JHU programs, business programs from Capitol College, the Information Systems Management B.S. from UMUC, or the Criminal Justice and Law Enforcement program from Coppin State University. Criminal Justice CSM majors can also finish their B.S. with Coppin State.

Engineering majors at CSM can go forward with the Capitol College Engineering programs including the ABET accredited electrical engineering BSEE. Engineering Technology CSM majors can continue in the Old Dominion University Engineering Technology B.S. completion programs in electrical, mechanical, civil or general engineering technology. All students can fill in additional general education requirements from CSM and the other institutions listed.
